DETAILED ACTION

1. The restriction requirement made in the Office letter dated March 17, 2008 has been withdrawn. Therefore, all claims 1-7 are now included in the examination.
2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kais (US 6,177,205) in view of Bhadeshia (US 5,879,474).

Kais discloses a stretch of rail comprising switch element 12 made of high alloy steel including manganese content of 10-20%, connected directly to the lengths of carbon steel rails 14,16 by welding without deposition of metal (see for example claim 1 of Kais patent). It is noted that Kais does not disclose the specific material composition of the carbon steel rails as recited in the instant claims.

Bhadeshia, column 3, second paragraph, describes bainitic steel rail without carbide; wherein, the steel rail having the material composition as recited in instant claims.

In view of Bhadeshia, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to use bainitic steel rails with material composition similar to that taught by Bhadeshia, in the structure of Kais so as to achieve expected advantages, such as higher structural integrity and enhanced weldability.
